To the Servicemen

THESE ARE THE BOYS who have gone forth to represent the Class of January 1944 in this, our battle for freedom. The pride that we secrete in our hearts for this small but momentous group is indeed abundant. Whether they are near or far, their thoughts and spirits are ever with us. A constant prayer is upon our lips that they will remain unharmed by the horrors of war and will return to us victorious. The class joins in saying, "Good luck, boys and God Bless You."

SHIP AHOY!

Features

ANCHORS AWEIGH!

WE HAVE LIFTED the anchor and will proceed on our uncertain mission into the wild and dark expanses of the unknown which roll out before us to the distant horizon. We have been in safe port for four years and in those years our ship has been prepared for the lifelong and arduous mission to come.

We have tried to make those years happy ones, for once leaving the sunny harbor, we know that the storm outside will certainly buffet us and blow us into the foaming whirlpool called life.

But the light from the lighthouse which we are leaving has imprinted its guiding message into our hearts and minds, and we are unafraid to enter open water for we are prepared. We, who make up the crew of our ship, have shared laughter and tears, happiness and sorrow, but above all the knowledge of freedom of man, which is being imperiled in these trying times.

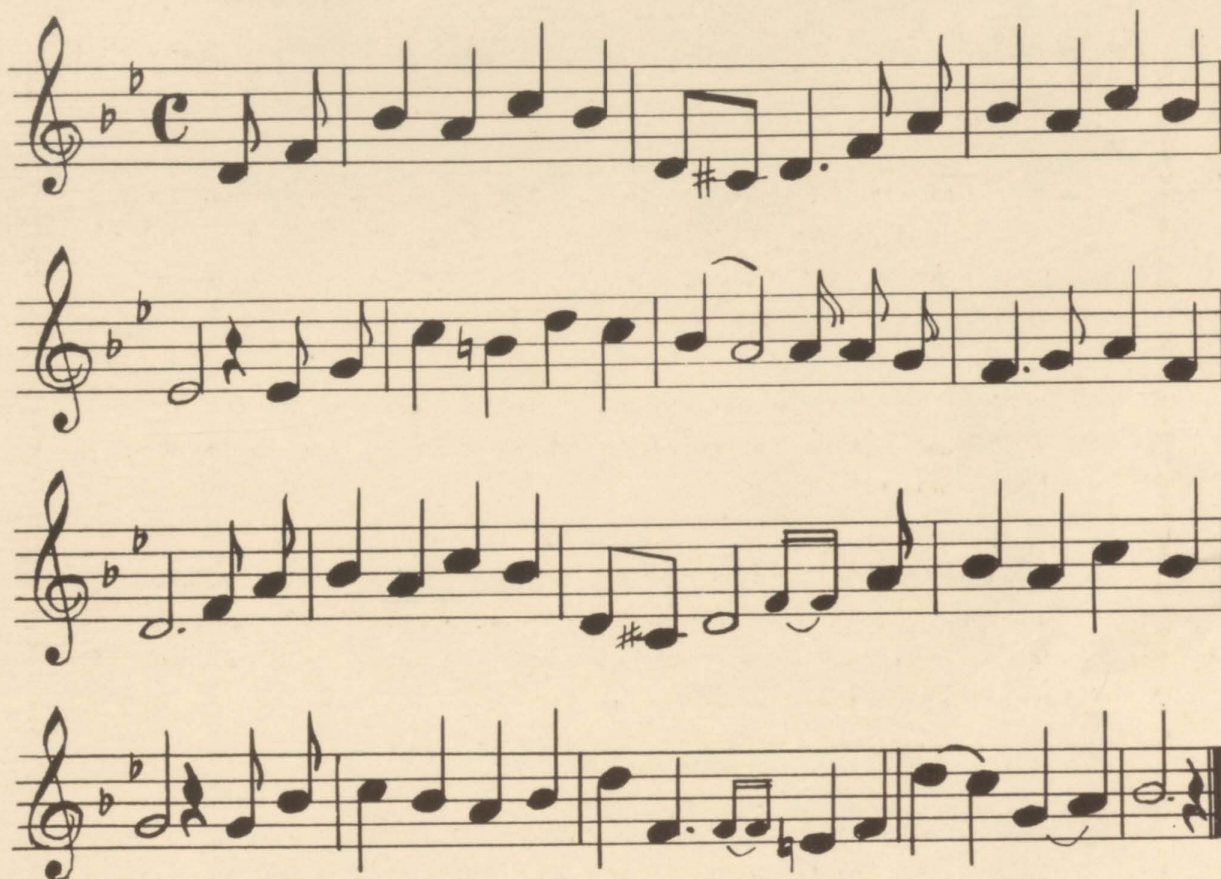

As we slide into the gray mists of the future, we leave behind us a radiant path of light—to be sailed by those who will follow us throughout the ages.

CLASS SONG

Words by MARY JANE SIMPSON

Music by MARGUERITE GEORGE

As we end our happy journey,
Cherished mem'ries crowd to mind
Of the years in these famed halls
Which now, too soon, we leave behind.
Though our ways will soon be parted,
While the years drift in review
To beloved Alma Mater
Shall we stand, steadfast and true.

To the ones who've lead us forward,
Pledge we on this gala night
That our motto we shall treasure,
Of Truth, and Honor and the Light.
Though our hearts are now o'er-flowing,
With eyes amidst, yet heads held high,
We shall march to meet our future
As we fondly say "Goodbye."

Alma Mater

Over many a city old,
Famed in song and story,
Temple grey and castle hold
Catch the sunset glory.
So our Alma Mater proud
Looks o'er vale and meadow,
High between the sailing cloud
And its drifting shadow.

For her colors, first the blue
Of the April valley,
Then December's wintry hue
When the storm winds rally.
Newark High, thy fame we raise,
Many voices blending,
Through the years we pledge thee praise,
Loyal to life's ending.

JUNIUS W. STEVENS, 1924

PAUL J. SANDERS

In Memoriam

IN THE PASSING of Paul J. Sanders earlier this semester we of Barringer have been stricken a severe blow. His greatest services to his students were not confined alone to the lessons of the day, for while being a teacher of the highest calibre, he was as well an ardent advocate of character development.

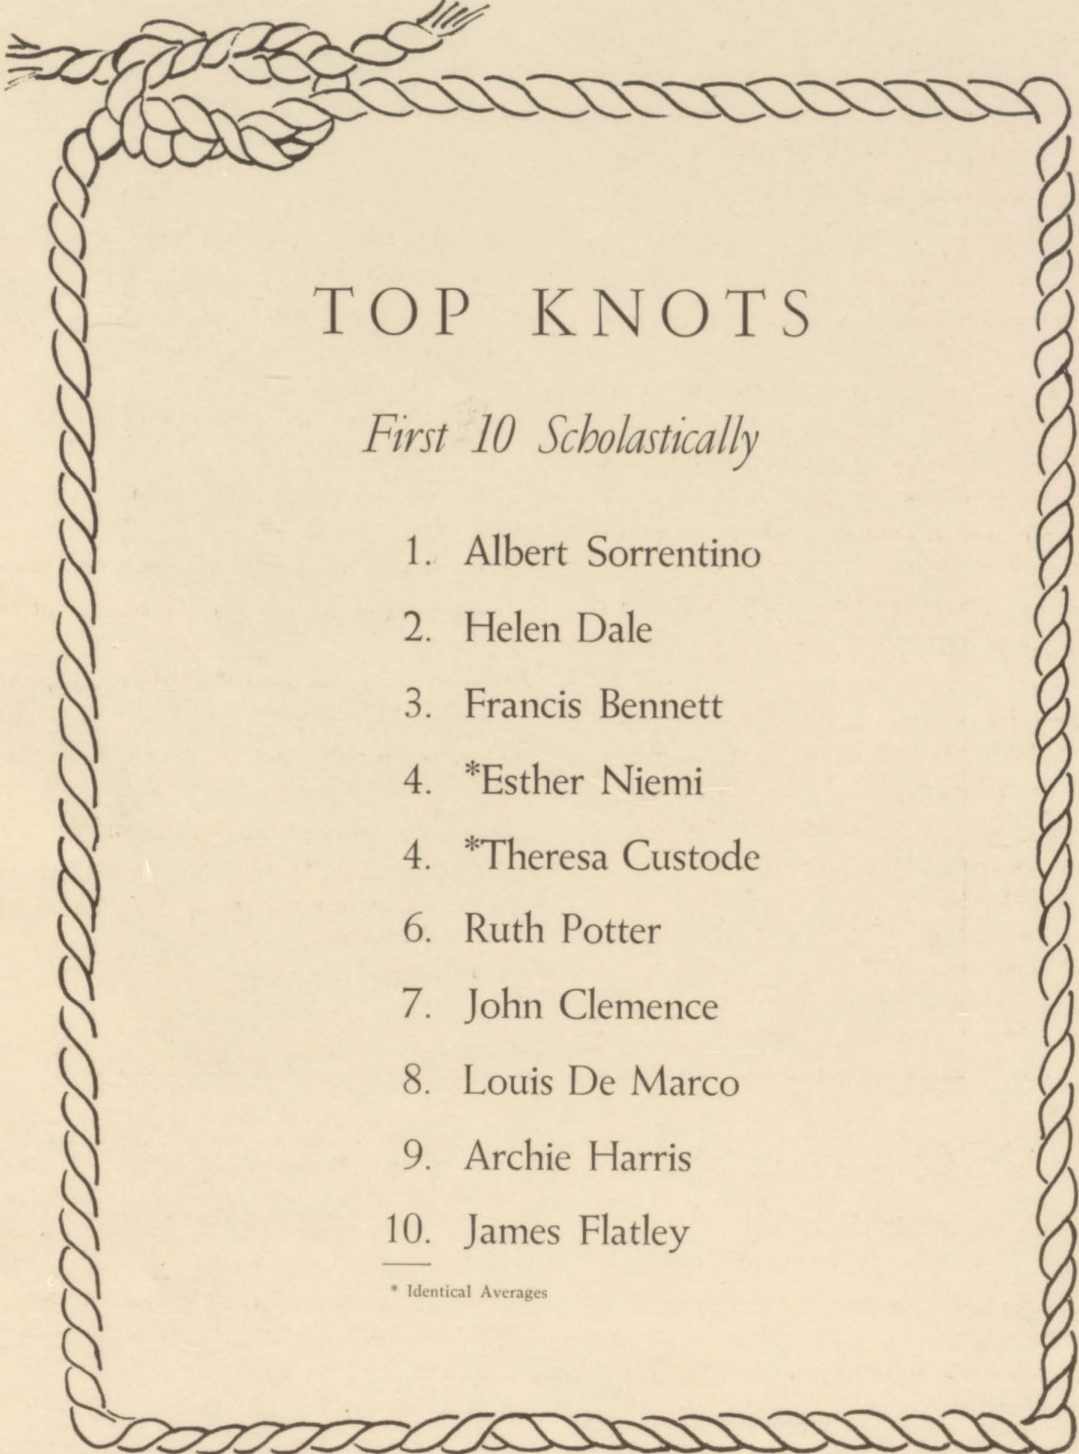

Mr. Sanders' personal interest in the problems and activities of his numerous and ever-changing pupils during more than twenty years of merited service at Barringer was one of his most renowned traits. Being known and continually referred to as a "wonderful teacher" by his students is another tribute to his amiable personality.

His inventive genius was evident in several devices of scientific value as he was constantly active in many fields of work.

Mr. Sanders will no longer be seen standing in front of Room 25 but his spiritual presence will long be felt and held dear in the hearts of all who have known him.

We have truly suffered a great loss.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Of the Class of January 1944

It is generally known that we, the Class of Jan. 1944, being of unsound mind and somewhat weakened condition, are expected to bequeath our most precious possessions to the undergraduates and faculty.

To Miss Tunstead we leave a pair of roller skates to be everywhere at all times.

To Miss Driscoll we leave a new bottle of Spirits of Ammonia.

To Mr. Allen we leave three cheers for leading our teams to victory.

To Miss Walston we leave a book of "Mother Goose Rhymes" and a class of poetry-loving students.

To Miss Capen we leave some uncivilized students to be made civilized in Human Relations.

To Mr. Celiano we leave the New Jersey Constitution.

To Mrs. Burley we leave some alarm clocks to give to late comers.

To Mr. Landolphi we leave a subscription to Esquire for the boys to read while waiting in his office.

To Miss Weiss we leave Jack Cairns' megaphone.

To Mr. Saylor we leave a record of "Home on the Range" so he won't strain his voice while demonstrating sound waves.

To Mr. Zweibel we leave two new secretaries as Mary Jane and Leola are leaving.

To Mr. Dumm we leave a red, white, and blue sun bonnet to wear in his victory garden.

To Mrs. Dacier we leave the lunchroom antics of future seniors.

To Mr. Weiss we leave a record of "Moonlight Sinatra."

To Mrs. Wilson we leave some well deserved help.

To Miss Rine we leave a new set of vocal cords.

To Miss Jones we leave a pair of suspenders to hold up her slacks.

To Mr. Hartman we leave some dirt-resisting football uniforms.

To the Math. Dept. we leave clouds of chalk dust for the day-dreamers in which to lose themselves.

To the Science Dept. we leave the "three blind mice" of the Central game with which to experiment.

To the English Dept. we leave the privilege of reviving the dead authors.

To the Language Dept. we leave a new group of tongue-tied linguists to aggravate the language teachers.

To the Art Dept. we leave a new set of modernistic scribbles.

To the Girls' Gym Dept. we leave a class without a girl with two left feet.

To the Boys' Gym Dept. we leave a new tarzan.

To the Janitors we leave an automatic gum and spot remover.

To the Painters we leave the job of painting the pink elevator blue.

We leave the auditorium - - - - , on a rainy day or to those who stay, an umbrella stand.

We leave the halls in the pink of condition; let's hope they stay that way.

To the undergraduates we leave a long breadline in the lunchroom.

To the Annex we leave a new class of bewildered freshmen.

To Mr. McGreal we leave our appreciation for his guidance and help.

To our under-classmates we leave Mrs. Everall and Mr. Vogel, the two best advisers a class could ever wish for.

CLASS PROPHECY

"GOOD EVENING, ladies and gentlemen, this is Al Sorrentino acting as Master of Ceremonies for the gala premiere of the "El Hromiko" night club. As you all know, a great new ship, the "U. S. S. Barringer," was launched this afternoon, and we've all gathered here tonight to celebrate and have a good time.

A glance at my Siegel watch (which, incidentally, was a gift from George Siegel, now head of the "Siegel Watch Works") tells me that we have fifteen minutes before the show begins. So, in the meantime, we'll introduce some of our employees to you.

Greeting you as you enter the club is William Freeman, our very popular doorman. You are then welcomed by our attractive hat check girl, Jeanne Bromley. Standing nearby I can see that our cute little cigarette girl, Jinny Simpson, is chatting with Rose DeRienzo, the telephone operator.

At the entrance of the luxurious "57 Room" we see Stan Hromiko, the owner, talking with Joyce Pearson, who did the interior decorating, and Rose Salerno, owner of "Ye Olde Flower Potte" which is located across the street.

Our head-waiter, Vito Zoppi, is now showing a large party to its table. I see that it's Paul Eccles, director of the "Follies Revue of 1954," accompanied by several of his chorines, Mildred Davis, Lucille Gilroy, Shirley Rossner, Doris Cagan, and Helen Drinkwater. On the way to their table they stop to chat with Ray Heun, producer of the tragedy "Moon and Suspenders." With Mr. Heun are his two leading performers, Ruth Potter and Harold Klein.

At the far end of the room I see Robert Beffie, editor of the "Buffie Bugle," giving last minute instructions to Marilyn Cannon, society reporter, and his ace cameraman, John Kirwan.

Just a moment folks—there seems to be some disturbance over at that ringside table. Why, it's little Artie Weiss vehemently denouncing capitalists, Archie H. Harris III and John L. Klem. Listening intently is Neal Cairns, candidate for the Populist Party, but not so intent is he that he doesn't notice those three rivals for the title of "Miss New Jersey"—Flora Esposito, Dot Lanzara and Regina Docker—coming in the door. They are immediately joined by Mike Marzano, book reviewer, Sherry Levin, editor of "Squint" magazine, and Uncle Louie DeMarco, popular radio bedtime story teller.

And over there are Vivienne Marr and Hannah

Thies, well known society women, seated with Marilyn Secor, Leona Strauss, Mary Musgrave and Marie Moe, fashion experts from Pahne's Department Store. They are being interviewed by Jerry Meehan, roving reporter.

Well, folks, our fifteen minutes are up and it's time for the floor show. But before it gets under way I'll run through the complete program for the benefit of those who can't read. Heading our list of top-notch entertainers is Herman Rich, his Burping Rhythm orchestra and his charming vocalist, Lydia Festa, who will sing a popular ballad of the day, "Wednesday, Thursday or Never." Then the house-lights dim as the rhythmic strains of a rumba introduce the world renowned dancer, Helen Dale. Malcolm Urban, the bath-tub baritone, who is next on the program, will set the girls' hearts a-flutter with a few selections from the score of "Umbriago."

For those of you who like fast stepping we have those two professional jitterbugs, Jean Bimbo and Dan Portella. And last, but by no means least, we have Esther "Bubbles" Niemi doing that daring balloon dance as only she can do it. (The balloons were supplied by the Evelyn Marble Balloon Corp. of America.)

Judging from the applause I gather the show was a great success and now as you folks enjoy the delicious food prepared by our chefs, Vincent Salvatoriello and Ralph Scarola, we will point out some of the guests who arrived a little late. Over in that far corner is Joe Ferraro, surrealist painter. His admiring audience is Sam Quartello and Norma Castelli with Angelo Pawlakos and Helen Giordano. At that ringside table are Marguerite George and Lois VanDyke, opera singers, sipping lemonade and comparing notes with Mary Ranger, music teacher.

Making a dramatic entrance are Dorothy Goodrich and Fred Pollack, idols of movie goers. With all eyes focused upon them, they stroll nonchalantly (giving out autographed photographs as they go) to the table of Jimmy McCormack, Yo-Yo king, seated with Alma Hagedorn, debutante.

Seated at the table next to theirs are Ed Sexton, famous ballet dancer, and John Clemence, concert pianist, both of whom have just returned from a tour of European capitals.

What's that bubbling noise over in the corner? Why, it's Joe Westerfield, the inventor, and Ted Seymour, a chemist, mixing their super-specials.

Hey, Jim Flatley, sit down! This is no time to be giving out free samples of your breakfast food.

I see Peggy D'Amico, noted dress designer, talking about several of her new creations to Teresa Comito and Mary DeFabrizio, buyers at Lacey's Department Store.

It seems that I'm getting a little competition from Clarence Peale, who is trying out some of his latest jokes on nurses Gloria Scercy, Elaine Pryor, Edith Matthew and June Butler.

Plotting a new creation is Vinnie Scalera, women's hat designer, with his private secretary, Florence Kalamian. She looks mighty sweet in that "spur-of-the-moment" hat (?)

Robert Barton, now a famous horse doctor, is busily reassuring Ruth Eisenberg, head of the Eisenberg Horse Stables, that her pet horse, "Feed Box," will be up and jumping hurdles in a few days.

Those four "Pencil Dots," Walter Chavious, Bert Coppock, Morris Allen and John Brown, current rage at the New York Paramount, are trying to get the waiter's attention by yelling "hey" in four-part harmony.

Talking about the good old days when they used to cut school are those two truant officers Jerry Meola and Henry Stasio.

Having a minor Barringer teachers' convention are Theresa Fattaruso and Olga D'Aloia, Spanish teachers, Helen Panagakos, History teacher, Josephine Fiorvante, Chemistry assistant, Theresa Ferraro, Nutrition teacher, Josephine Freda, Biology teacher, and Josephine Librizzi, practice teacher under Mr. Pritchard.

There's Dottie Ermilio and Aileen Caruso, co-owners of the Erruso Car Corp., drawing up plans for the latest model xyz with their business executive, Joe Caruso.

From where I'm standing Librarians Marie Capola, Eva DeVita and Eileen Snyder seem to be deeply engrossed in an interesting conversation. It could be about books but I doubt it! David Baccaro, Louis Bigini and Salvatore Roppolo seated at the next table make mighty fine looking firemen.

Constance Shell and Genevieve Underhill, owners of a gift shop, are talking to Mildred Black, Geneva Collins and Emma Yeldell, housewives.

Having a good time are Mike Melograno, owner of the P.D.Q. (Pretty Darn Quick) Airlines and his charming hostess, Gladys Widman. They are with Mike Bravette, music publisher, and Shirley Fonda, professional bowler.

Discussing her front page divorce case with Tom Tipaldi, District Attorney, and his secretary, Lucy Albanese, is the former Shirley Rogers.

Representing the Chartreuse Radio Network are Leola Spry, leading lady in the daytime serial, "Tom's Other Wife," and Theresa Custode, who portrays the title role of "Magnolia Pflugg," girl lumberjack. With them is Tony DeSantis, hero of that hair-raising mystery thriller, "The Voice."

Watching some of his former pupils trip the light fantastic is Jack Cairns, head of the Jackie Cairns Ballroom Dancing School. He is accompanying one of his popular hostesses, the glamorous Frances Bennett.

Drawing the attention of many to their table are the Everall models, Perry DeRogatis, wearing the latest fashion in evening gowns, and Dorothy Killeen, whose beautiful hands grace many a jewelry ad.

I didn't know that a night club could be so boring that you had to read a book to enjoy yourself. No, it's only Donald Shinbaum, probably trying to prove a point from his "Book of Etiquette" to Betty Danieli who gives advice to the lovelorn in the Buffie Bugle newspaper.

Having the time of their lives are beauticians Rose Marie O'Reilly, Catherine Pace, and Rose Ferraro, listening to the morbid stories of that popular (?) mortician Lois Denton. She seems to be giving Antoinette Anzalone, Physical Ed. Teacher, the eye. Antoinette, noticing this, makes tracks for her own table, so Lois continues with her stories.

Vincent Sperduto, owner of a men's clothing store, is talking earnestly to Boy Scout leader Bob Flocke. He is probably trying to sell him on the idea of having zoot suits for uniforms.

At the next table, seemingly enjoying himself, is Warren Mills, barker at Warnum and Wailey's Circus, talking with Andrew Cassili and Salvatore Ferrara who are taking a night off from their duties as policemen. They are joined by Betty Saxon and Joan Salbin, owners of a sweater shop.

Off in one corner is Rose LaRossa arguing with Fred Behrle, President of a peroxide corporation that it's perfectly shameful for a girl to bleach her hair blonde when she can dye it brunette.

My time is running out so I'll leave you to your fun. "Good-night, folks, and enjoy yourselves."

Though this prophecy may not be fulfilled in every respect, may each individual find his place in the great new world that lies ahead of us.

In Appreciation

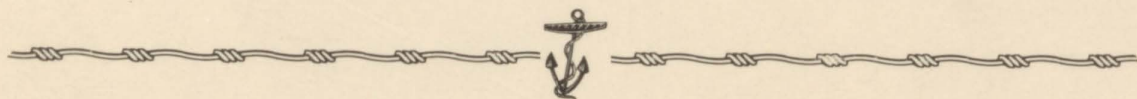

A SINCERE VOTE of thanks must here be expressed to those members of the faculty whose untiring efforts helped our class achieve its high standards. Through their special interests in our welfare, we have been able to successfully end our stay at Barringer. Our gratitude to Miss Hartman and Miss Walston for their help in assisting us in making our yearbook what it is. Our appreciation also goes to Mrs. Burley and to Mr. Landolphi for his vocational guidance. To the other members of the faculty, too numerous to mention, whose efforts also helped us in some way or another, our sincere thanks must be expressed. When we have long forgotten them as teachers, may we still remember them as friends.

JOHN KIRWAN

John's first taste of glory came in '42 when he was a part of the city championship football team. He also played varsity ball during his senior year in his position at right end.

ARMAND LEMBO

Armand earned his first letter in '41 as a member of our varsity baseball squad. He also played baseball in '42, and in '43 was elected Captain. Armand also played varsity football in '41 and '42. In '43 he left Barringer to go into the Army.

ADVERTISEMENTS

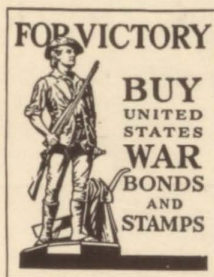

All Out for Victory!

In these challenging days, requiring the utmost effort of every one of us to bring a complete victory to our country and a lasting peace to the world, the educational front—like the battle front and the production front—plays a vital role.

The year book today has a new and powerful motif: to reflect the school in war time.

Likewise, the year book today has a richer meaning than ever before: it is engraved with memories of friends and classmates who will be setting forth to all the fronts.

You rightfully expect a year book that will hold a proud place in the annals of your school, and for these reasons we dedicate our trained skills, our modern plant, and our experienced services to the fulfillment of your most discriminating requirements.
